SIMPLY SPECTACULAR

Elizabethtown once again held traditional annual special events such as Parent's Weekend, Homecoming, Convocation, TGIS, the Jr-Sr Dinner Dance, and holiday dinners.

This fall, the college sponsored the "Changing Brain" Symposium. There were no classes held the day of the symposium in order to give students, faculty, staff, and community members the opportunity to attend the event. It worked because Gibble Auditorium was packed with people waiting to hear specialists in the field of psychology lecture.

Special events such as AIDS Awareness Week and Alcohol Awareness Week were also sponsored again with a wide variety of related activities.

The Second Annual Spring Arts Festival was held and included a variety of activities including a juried art exhibition, an art sale, jewelry-making, a photography contest, and a battle of the bands event which featured local bands made up of students form the college.

Through events such as these and others, the past year has been Simply Spectacular.

CONVOCATION

September 25, 1991 marked the 92nd Convocation at Elizabethtown College. Convocation signifies the beginning of the academic year with a collage of welcome addresses, speeches, and music. The ceremony, which acknowledges student scholars and professors, is open to all students and is held during a Wednesday at 10. The guest speaker for this year's event was Dr. Jacob Neusner who addressed the students and faculty along with President Speigler. Everyone left the ceremony with high hopes for a great 1991-92 school term.

FALL SYMPOSIUM

The Congress of the United States designated the 1990's as the "Decade of the Brain". In recognition of this, Elizabethtown College sponsored a series of lectures and discussions bringing scientists, professionals, scholars, and lay people together to reduce the bridge between research and practice in our knowl-

PARENTS WEEKEND

The vacuum cleaners are humming, there's a huge line in the laundry room, and E-town students are busily running up and down the hallways. This could only mean one thing - the parents are coming. Yes, Parents Weekend ascended upon us once again.

A talent show which was once again sponsored by APB, was held during the weekend. The large audience was entertained by a comic lip sync and dance group, as well as various soloists and piano compositions.

As is college tradition the annual Parent of the Year Award was presented by the Parents Council. This year's recipients were Mr. and Mrs. Lesh, the parents of Jayne Lesh, who is a junior at E-town.

Beside the traditional weekend festivities, an added attraction visited E-town. Many people gathered at the high school in order to see Ken Richard in his portrayal of Mark Twain.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming '91 was an exciting day for both alumni and current students. The activities at midway and the many sporting events were all great successes. Faculty, friends, and family joined students by participating in the many events offered.

The court consisted of freshman Marc Herrick and Voula Kyriakopoulos, sophmores Edward Savino and Tracy Seiler, juniors Donald Blyler and Dierdre Hendrie, and seniors Scott Helsel, Mike Testani, Angela Maxton, and Udochi Amachi. Jennifer Benton and Dane DeLozier were crowned Queen and King of 1991.

The Brotherhood of Blue won their game by a score of 1-0. The game's single goal was scored by junior Pat Walsh.

Homecoming evening included a buffet style dinner and Roberta Flack concert. All of the participants in Homecoming '91 will hold the day as a fond memory.

HALLOWEEN FUN

Halloween at E-town was an unusually successful holiday this year. An unprecedented number of groups and organizations participated in the Halloween festivities. There were three different haunted houses across the campus for students and staff as well as the community to visit. The health center as well as parts of Zug and Esbenshade were transformed into rooms of horror and suspense. Pumpkin carving in the Dell brought not only students out of their rooms but also attracted many children from the community.

Those students who attended the event not only decorated their own pumpkins but also assisted the kids present in creating a Halloween masterpiece. Halloween night brought much activity to campus as Schlosser and Royer, sponsored by Residence Life Council, handed out candy and goodies to all those dressed up for the evening.

Other students and guests formed the live audience for the WWEC Live Halloween Radio Show, sponsored by the Society of Collegiate Journalists. Scary stories and sound effects sent fright through the night.

THE ARTS

This spring, students had the opportunity to experience not only the artistic ability of their fellow classmates, but also the talents of many guest performers. Two weekends were devoted completely to the Arts; these were the Instrumental Music Spring Symposium and the Spring Arts Festival.

The Symposium included concerts, clinics, seminars, and demonstrations, which allowed Elizabethtown's musically gifted students to work and perform with experts in the world of music. The symposium also provided music education and a source of relaxation for all students.

The annual Spring Arts Festival provided musical entertainment from some of our college-based bands. In addition to this, there were also vendor stands and the presentation of the spring production.

MERTON OF THE MOVIES

Lights, camera, and action; that is what drew "Merton" out of the country and into the hustle and bustle of Hollywood. "Merton of the Movies" typifies the struggle of the movie business; as well as, the tricks producers used to satisfy the actors, the audience, and themselves.

The production of "Merton of the Movies" was attractive to the audience by the use of elaborate sets and lighting. A particularly effective element was the silent movies and their use of strobe lights. The audience was especially responsive to the relationship between "Merton" and "girl", which is attributed to the acting abilities of each member of the cast.

THE JR-SR DINNER DANCE

This year's Jr-Sr semi-formal was held on April 11, 1992 at the Marriot Hotel in Harrisburg. The evening included food, dancing, and friendship for the many students who participated in this year's event. The hotel served as a weekend get-away for many of the students, as they had the opportunity to reserve a room for the evening; this meant that they had full access to all of the hotel's recreational facilities. A great time was had by all of the guests. The Junior Class is deserving of a huge amount of appreciation for their time and hard work in the preparation of the evening.

ANNUAL AWARDS CEREMONY

A college's excellence lies in the quality and involvement of its students. Elizabethtown is indeed fortunate to have the rich resource of committed and outstanding students. This ceremony, in some way, recognizes their contribution to that milieu which makes our college distinctive. No recognition can be comprehensive. Many of those who have helped make Elizabethtown College a special place are, of course, regretfully omitted, but the gratitude of all in the College community for their efforts is offered.

The circus fun began Thursday afternoon as a clown handed out helium balloons in an attempt to boost excitement and participation in the upcoming events. The TGIS weekend was packed full of activities and fun; from movies to a costume dance party. APB, sponsored several bands which performed in the Myer/Ober breezeway. Another popular event was the Scavenger Hunt sponsored by Residence Life Council. This years hunt had the largest number of participants and was the most successful yet. The traditional TGIS dinner was held in the gym which was transformed into a circus wonderland.

SENIOR WORSHIP SERVICE

At 10 a.m. on May 23, the day of graduation festivities began with the annual senior worship service. This service was held at the Church of the Brethren and is conducted by and for graduating seniors, to give them one last opportunity to be in worship together. Many senior class members participated in this memorable event ranging in roles from singing to speaking. Several graduates even shared special memories of their college careers with the audience. COMMENCEMENT

On May 23, 1992, the 89th Commencement at Elizabethtown College were held. The event took place in the Dell under hot and humid conditions. The commencement address was given by Ida K. Chen, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County. After her inspiring speech, Judge Chen was presented with an honorary degree and similar degrees were conferred upon Ernest W. Lefever and Malkia Roberts.

The chosen Teacher of the Year was then announced; it was presented to Otis Kitchen, Professor of Music.

The degrees of Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts were conferred upon approximately three hundred seniors. Although graduation brings many tears, for it marks the end of a student's college career, it also marks the beginning of a very bright future.

SIMPLY ORGANIZED

Elizabethtown offers many opportunities for involvement through the numerous student organizations. These clubs provide members of the college community with insight and experiences in the activities and fields of their choosing.

Clubs allow students to broaden their horizons by getting together with people who share a common interest or desire and get involved with things they are truly interested in or concerned about. They are also a good opportunity to network for the future.

To gain recognition as a college club, a group of interested people must first submit a constitution to be accepted by Student Senate. After this is passed by Student Senate, the group officially becomes a club and from there, they must elect officers and plan meetings; and, those meetings have been Simply Organized.

SENIOR CLASS

This has been a good year for the senior class. They started out the year at Homecoming where they successfully sold their entire stock of t-shirts. The seniors then proceeded to beat last year's defending champions in the tug-of-war contest and became the reigning tug-of-war champions. Homecoming also provided the seniors with the opportunity to boast some of the best in their class. Dane Delozier and Jen Benton represented the senior class as Homecoming King and Oueen. respectively.

The senior class also sponsored a trip to Baltimore Inner Harbor during the first semester. The trip proved to be quite successful. There was a great turnout with 68 members of the class attending.

Spring Semester also proved to be a fun and exciting semester for the senior class. The class officers were in communication with the administration and planned a number of special class events including community service and projects.

The Senior class decided to show appreciation to the college by buying a new Elizabethtown College sign for the corner of College Avenue and Mount Joy.

ETOWNIAN AND CONESTOGAN

The theme chosen for this vears edition of the Conestogan, Simply Divine, fits the book perfectly. The theme was chosen to motivate the staff and editors of the Conestogan to produce a book which in its simplicity is divine. And that is just what they created. The process began in September. when staff selections were held. Advisor, Elisa Miller, and editors, Kelly Carlson and Brett Preston put the yearbook together with the help of 49 staff members, 12 section editors, and two assistant editors.

Many hours of hard work were put into the book by everyone involved. With great effort from all of the dedicated staff members, the December deadlines were met. The book was finally completed in June, enabling fall delivery at homecoming. The Conestogan staff used the resources available to them to create a yearbook, which in itself is "simply divine."

The Etownian underwent many positive changes this year. A lot of new computer equipment was acquired, enabling faster and easier production of the weekly newspaper. The layout program was switched from Ready-Set-Go to Pagemaker, upgrading the look of the paper.

On top of all of these mechanical changes, the paper was expanded in a variety of other ways. Features and Spotlights on Elizabethtown graduates were added to the sports section. Expanded coverage of world news was added through features such as "Our Turn," a weekly editorial expressing one view on a controversial issue of concern. As for community news, an Elizabethtown police blotter, including information concerning any individuals on campus or in the town itself, was added to the paper in February. The staff of the paper was also enlarged. Positions for assistant editors were opened in order to broaden the number of people involved. Everyone involved was responsible for the quality paper that was produced. Editor Dale Zeigler stated, "The Etown-ian staff really pulled together this year to make the paper a more quality production. They are all good workers."

Jen Walter grins and bears another late night in the Etownian office.

ECTV "Talk of the Towns

ECTV's production "Talk of mester under their production, the Towns" has been a group of people that has been growing together with each passing week. Since most of the production staff last year was made up of seniors, they were forced to start from scratch this year. From the first show that they put together they have been growing with leaps and bounds.

This year, the Modern Language Club and the International Club have joined together to form the International Languages and Cultures Club. Included in the group's approximately sixty members are foreign students and foreign staff members at Elizabethtown College, students who have studied or would like to study abroad, and students who are interested in learning about foreign cultures. One of the organization's main goals is to facilitate the adjustment of foreign students to living within our culture. In addition, through interaction between the foreign and American students, members are given the opportunity to learn about other societies. The Club holds three annual receptions. The first is held in the fall to welcome the new foreign students and staff members to our campus. The second, which is held in the winter, is used to interact with foreign students, such as high school exchange students, who are living temporarily in the area. In the spring, the club holds its last reception of the year to culminate the foreign students' and staffs' intercultural experiences. In addition to the three annual receptions, the club has three regular business meetings with special speakers and has sponsored its own theme weekend. This year's theme weekend promoted the awareness of foreign cultures through activities such as having the cafeteria offer a wide selection of foreign foods to the students. The club also presents a series of foreign films and sponsors trips to various cities such as New York and Washington D.C.

The S.M.I.L.E. Club is a new addition to the Elizabethtown College service organization community. The purpose of the club is to provide an opportunity for college students to interact with residents of nursing homes, hospitals, and those that are shut-in. The Smile Club conducts weekly visits to such people and provides different activities that enrich the lives of all those involved. The members also engage in such activities as clowning and caroling during the holidays.

The club consists of forty active members, led by Joan Austin. The members meet monthly to exchange different ideas, create different holiday projects, and to talk about their weekly visits with their friends. The club also sponsors all campus movie nights at Elizabethtown College.

SOCK & BUSKIN

Sock and Buskin is the oldest club on campus. Although it has been in existence since the late 1950's, it has been recently reactivated to allow for the interest in theatre that has been found at Elizabethtown.

The club is a growing organization that is active in the campus community. They help other clubs and organizations with their college related activities, including events such as the Renaissance Theme weekend coproduced with the Schlosser Residence Hall. They have also worked with S.A.D.D. to portray a D.U.I. mock trial for College Drunk Driving Awareness Week; and they actively participate in the College Spring Arts Festival every year.

Along with these activities are Sock and Buskin's own sponsored annual events including the Annual Theme Dinner. This year the theme was 1920's Speak Easy, "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" was presented to campus in cooperation with APB, And the major theatre presentation for the spring semester was "Merton of the Movies". This is produced through the Theatre Department. Also, Sock and Buskin presented the Spring semester one-act plays.

STUDENT SENATE

Changes. No other word could describe the 1991-1992 Student Senate. From the used book sale to the extremely successful Homecoming festivities, on and off the Midway, Student Senate has been making the kind of subtle changes which makes Elizabethtown College a better place. Student Senate along with the faculty's help, implemented the Academic Code of Integrity for the first time this year. Along with this code, Student Senate has tackled the issues we, as students, deal with daily: grade inflation, parking, and student fees.

Two of the Senate's hottest issues include the revision of their constitution and the distributing of the student activities budget. The Senate plans to have revision of its constitution completed by next year and will contain many changes. Student Senate is proposing that it be responsible for distributing the over 100,000 student activities budget, which is currently distributed by the administration.

Once again-changes. According to Student Senate President-Scott Helsel, "This year, there has been an increase interest in Student Senate. Students really want a say in decisions made here.'

SIMPLY SUPERB

For the past four years, the Class of 1992 has grown and developed in both their professional and personal lives. Many changes have occurred since the class entered in 1988, including campus renovation, the construction of the High Library and conversion of Zug to a fine arts facility.

Members of the class took a great interest in campus and community events. Throughout the four years, members held leadership positions in departmental clubs, Student Senate, and administrative committees.

In April, the class spent time reminiscing over fond memories of years past at the Senior banquet. The traditional slide show featured personal photographs from the past four years submitted by members of the class. The slide show itself was developed by the Senior Class officers.

The Senior Class gift to the college was a replacement for the current Elizabethtown College sign located in front of Schlosser Residence. The sign is dedicated to students who have died while attending the college, including Gary A. Lloyd, Dave Snyder, and Dave Salmon, who passed away in previous years.

This senior class has showed all that it is Simply Superb.

SIMPLY UNDER PRESSURE

Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are all pushing themselves toward graduation and the "real world". Through the years, they build their strengths, skills, and confidence in order to be the best they can. Each year is another step in the climb toward their future. As the college grows and builds upon itself, these students grow along with it.

This year marked the beginning of construction of the town house complex located behind the soccer field and the addition of the BSC. For sophomores and juniors, there is the loss of Rider Hall, but for the freshmen, they are only aware of the new statue and fountain located adjacent to Alpha Hall.

Changes must occur for there to be growth and new experiences; these changes put underclassmen Simply Under Pressure.

Students wait in line to register for spring classes.

BRINSER

Brinser is an all-male residence hall that houses 137 students. Over the years, Brinser has acquired a reputation of not caring, but the guys are working hard to build a new reputation. As Head Resident Tina Hill states, "This will take time, but when you have a group of dedicated people working towards the same goal, only good things happen." One of the special events that Brinser planned for this year was Winterfest '92. Good luck to the guys as they try to create their new image.

FOUNDERS

According to the head resident of Founders, John Pionzio, Founders residence hall is best described as a "growing community". Each resident plays an "important role of respect" in this community. Throughout the year, the residents join together and sponsor six programs for the benefit of the entire campus. One such event was the tie-dye party that was held in correlation with the National College Alcohol Awareness Week. Students from every part of campus met in Founders' main lounge to dye their shirts, shorts, and pillow cases. Free pizza and "mocktails" were served to all who participated in the event. Founders is also the site of the dances that are held on campus every Friday and Saturday night.

MYER

The 145 lively, energetic women residents of Myer and Preservation Halls had quite an exciting year. Myer residents became the unsuspecting victims of the controversial Ober initiations and were disrupted by the unforgettable gas leak which resulted in numerous evacuations during the night. Halloween night, the two residence halls had a special program with a palm reader and time to just relax with friends. The women of Myer and Preservation also used their unusual flair and unique style to participate in a Christmas decorating and get-together night.

During the spring semester these residence halls participated in the Spring Walk-A-Thon and other fund raisers.

ROYER

Although it is tucked away on the edge of campus, Royer Residence Hall is far from isolated. With approximately 115 residents, Royer is an energetic place to live. Traditionally an all-female residence hall, this year Royer housed three male international students in the Royer apartment.

In this environment, residents were challenged this year to communicate effectively and develop a community atmosphere. A family atmosphere was helped by Royer's housekeeper, known affectionately as Jackie, who went above and beyond the call of duty to make students feel welcome and comfortable.

Special events have included a volleyball tournament. "Hump Day Havoc," an Occupational Diversity program with Dean Moorehead, an alcohol awareness program, and various educational programs.

SCHLOSSER

Schlosser residence hall has some of the largest halls on campus, however that does not prevent the residents from being a close-knit group. One reason for this is the active Hall Council which keeps the 207 students busy through organized activities. Schlosser residents have sponsored a Renasissance Fair in the dell, a Halloween party for local children, and a Christmas party at University Hospital, In addition, the women sold churros at Homecoming, volunteered their time to help build the Fun Fort, and enjoyed several activities within the walls of the building.

SIMPLY DEDICATED

The athletic teams are an integral part of the college community. The athletic events bring together students, faculty, staff, and community members. Elizabethtown's teams were again proud to be formidable opponents and to provide solid obstacles that many opposing teams could not overcome.

Many teams had strong showings in both Mid-Atlantic Conference tournaments and in NCAA playoffs. All teams made Elizabethtown fans proud.

The players devotion and perseverance during each game was supported by the college community. The athletes deserve to be thanked for their efforts supporting the college. These students are Simply Dedicated.

A 50 year

TRADITION

The 1991 season marked the 50th year anniversary of tradition and excellence for the Blue Jays. It was filled with the exceptional plays and unforgettable moments we have come to expect from the team. Although this season was plagued by injuries, the team, led by captains Tim Jones and Pete Rath, managed to pool their efforts and to rise to the occasion.

Confidence became a question of importance for the young team. Coach Roderick commented on the key Messiah win,

"We won and played well with some key injuries."

As the season continued, the Jays clinched the "Blue Jay Classic" by defeating Johns Hopkins and Allentown. The Jays acquired the MAC crown by beating Moravian in the finals. This gave them the bid to NCAA. They advanced to the quarterfinals where they were defeated by a fierce rival, Trenton State. This game was filled with one hundred fifty minutes of high intensity emotional play. Fans were treated to the game of a lifetime which was ended by the fate of penalty kicks; a game which will become a page in Elizabethtown history.

The Jays ended the season 203-3, placing them tenth in the straight year that the Jays have been in the top ten. This year also marks the ninth season and 150th career win for Coach Roderick. The season was a thrilling

Lady Jay's

ON THE MOVE

On the move... the Lady Jays stepped up to the challenge by increasing the level of competition in their schedule. These ladies did battle with some of the best teams in the country. Unfortunately, a lot of these difficult matches were grouped together at the beginning of the season. The athletic director from Dickinson College commented that this group probably had one of the "toughest schedules in the country." The first half of the season was challenging; the Lady Jays went 2-8. But, as time progressed, they bounced back in the second half of the season and went 7-2-1. Overall, the ladies finished 9-10-1.

Despite a slow start and some injuries, the team maintained an impressive attitude. They didn't give up; they worked hard and put forth an awesome effort. Tricaptains Helen Parkes, Dennifer Jones, and Danielle DiMarco guided the team through the competitive season. Since the program's inception in 1987, Jones and Parkes are the first four-time letter winners. Coach Batista claimed the turnine point of the season came when DiMarco rejoined play after being sidelined by an injury that was suffered in the very first game. Batista described her as a leader on the field who contributed a lot of confidence for the team.

It's never over 'til it's over. And when all of the scores were in, the Lady Jays did a terrific job adjusting to the upgraded schedule. They made an impressive comeback that few teams can boast of, the tenacity of this group of women is a credit to their season and their future.

Sticking to the

GOAL

Depth. . . consistency. . . attitude. Three words that go hand-in-hand when describing the Lady Jays field hockey team. Each player on this unusually large team had a tremendous amount of skill, which gave them a lot of depth. One player could be substituted for another in the starting line-up without losing a beat in the rhythm of the Jays' brand of hockey. This kind of consistency plus an awesome attitude propelled these ladies to dominate the Southeast section of the MAC tournament with an impressive record of 5-0.

Section champs was the first of a series of goals set by the team. Unfortunately, though, a disheartening loss to Lebanon Valley in the first round of the MAC tournament kept the ladies from achieving their other two goals: MAC champs and national champs.

At the beginning of the season, this group of women was ready to compete. They came in during preseason in good physical condition and were motivated to play ball. Coach Kauffman cited winning the first game of the season as a turning point; that first win raised the level of enthusiasm and helped maintain the team's motivation and confidence throughout the season. Tricaptains Jen Davis, Jessica Shue, and Jenn Zerbe were instrumental in providing leadership for the group. Zerbe was a top scorer and named the team's most valuable player. She also gained membership to the All-MAC team. Overall, the Lady Jays finished with a 12-8 record.

Cruisin' the MIRACLE MILE

The goal of any team for a season is to achieve a winning record. This was no exception for the Men's Cross-Country team. And, although the season was a see-saw of ups and downs, the goal was obtained as the Jay distance men finished with a record of 8-6-1.

Then, as if a winning regular season weren't enough, the Cross-Country Jays proved themselves further by recording the highest ever team finish in men's cross country history by placing 15th in MAC championships.

The Lady Jays likewise finished an outstanding season with a record of 9-4. Their regional finish was an impressive 13th place with Coach Dale Luy looking forward already to next year, hoping to get more runners out and obtain more depth for an even better 1992 team.

Grapplers Gettin' Down

Wrestling

Unbending, unyielding, staunch, and steadfast are four adjectives that come to mind when one thinks of the Blue Jay grapplers. The season began with an aura of emptiness as senior Gary Lloyd was missing from the line-up. Also, after 28 years of Coach Ober's presence at the edge of the mat, the active duties were left in the capable hands of first year assistant, Eric Mast.

The Jay Birds wanted respect. Because the team lacked contenders for one and some-times two weight classes, they had to forfeit points for those particular matches, forcing the wrestlers to work even harder to get those points back. Despite the initial disadvatage, the Jays succeeded because of their hard work. A turning point in the season was the Mount Union Tournament. After struggling a little at this event, the Jays regrouped and attacked the rest of the season. The grapplers finished with a record of 9 wins and 9 losses, which placed them ninth in the MAC standings.

Two men achieved MAC championship status, both qualifying for nationals at Trenton State University. The determination and hard work of the team as a whole earned them the respect that they wanted, giving them a season to look back on with pride.

Lady Jays

TAKE IT ON THE REBOUND

It may not have been the ending they wanted, but the Lady Jays Basketball team ended their season with a respectable overall record of 15-9 (6-4 in the MAC Northwest Section). Although there were a few disappointments, Head Coach Yvonne Kauffman was pleased with her team's overall efforts.

"I think what pleased me the most (about the season) was some of the teams we beat. We had a hard schedule and a lot of the games we lost, we lost by only one or two points. You're looking at just a few points of making a season a great finish or just a good finish," stated Kauffman.

The Jaygals had their fair share of heartbreakers, as they lost two games by two points or less to Susquehanna, the first by a score of 72-70 and the second by a score of 86-85.

E-town also outscored their opponents 1,751 points to 1,571 points. With the exception of rebounding, the Blue Jays dominated nearly every statistical category.

Men's Baskethall

For the first time in two years, the Blue Jays were left out of the MAC post-season picture.

The long, and often inconsistent winding road that ppitomized this young and nexperienced 1991-92 quad, ended on a high note towever, as the "Mighty blue" finished the campaign with two straight road victories.

While E-town struggled to find consistency, there was one constant in their play every night. "We always gave our all and played hard, even though sometimes we played well and sometimes we didn't," remarked Tom Kuffa. Even though the season was disappointing, Coach Schlosser states, "My goal here was, and is, to establish a philosophy and personality for our team and I think we are accomplishing that goal and I'm certainly excited about the future here."

last games to achieve a 6-9 overall record.

Splishin' and Splashin'

SWIMMING

The men's swim team made quite a splash in their 1991-92 season. These waterlogged Jays achieved their first winning season since 1973.

Under the direction of Mike Guinivan, the men swam their way to a record of eight wins and six losses. Coach Guinivan attributes the team's success to their competitive edge. "The men's team was much more competitive this year than in the previous years," he commented.

The Lady Jay swimmers, while swimming their best and steadily improving throughout the season, experienced a disappointing record of six wins and nine losses.

This record is a poor reflection of the team's ability, however; as the team's size was often the determining factor which led to the Lady Jay's downfall, according to coach Mike Guinivan, Fewer swimmers caused less participation in events where multiple en-tries could have made a significant difference. Furthermore, six wins is impressive for a team of such small size.

Each member of the team did indeed give their 100% in competition, thus proving that even in a swimming pool. Elizabethtown Blue Jays are fighting defenders.

MENS TENNIS

The 1992 Mens Tennis team proves that their team is full of "aces" as they swung their way to an outstanding record setting season. The Blue Jay racketman, under the coaching expertise of Robert Schott, set the Elizabethtown College "all-time" record for the most number of wins in a single season with twelve wins and just one loss. Furthermore, the team claimed some of the highest statistics in the MAC's this season as they surrendered the least number of points and matches in the entire MAC conference. One more impressive fact about the men is that they did not lose a doubles match all season. With accomplishments such as these, one would expect the men to be more than satisfied with their season. Post-season play, however, left the Jays with feelings of disappointment and bitter sweetness as they lost the Northern Division MAC playoff. Thus surrendering any hopes of breaking the jinx which has kept any Blue Jay mens tennis team from reaching the MAC final six consecutive time. Two singles and one doubles pair did reach the quarterfinals in the MAC playoffs. One encouraging note for the Jays, though, is that most of the team is returning next year to continue, and hopefully surpass this Blue Jay success.

proved that they not only "love" tennis, but are also skilled at it. Under the coaching of Robert Schott, the Lady Jays posted an impressive 9-2 mark to surpass lights include four players who reached the MAC individual playoffs. One pair reached the final round in doubles play, while one single lost in the first round and another in the second.

Who's On First

BASEBALL

Although 22-10-1 may seem like a big accomplishment for some teams, for the Blue Jay baseball team it definitely was not. After being ranked as high as fourth in the nation last year and entering the spring with a preseason ranking of fifteenth, the Jay's expectations were much higher. Following their first two games, the team traveled to Cocoa Beach, Fla., for a eight game stand. Returning from Fla. with a 9-1 record, the Javs seemed to be headed back to the NCAA tournament. Unfortunately things did not go as planned. The team only swept one of four double headers along with other devastating losses. The Jays could only manage a disappointing 13-9-1 record for the rest of the season. The "Never Say Die" Blue Jays did manage to win their last four regular season games. This secured them a spot in the NCAA tournament and accomplished the Jay's preseason goal of returning to the tournament.

Sliding to Success

SOFTBALL

The sport is called "softball" but the Lady Jays played hardball. An aggressive never-quit attitude carned the Lady Jays a 24-9 record and the MAC Northwest Section Championship. Coaches Pam Drazkowski and Brad Brubaker each had a word that described and acted as a constant reminder for the ladies: "Team" and "Determination". This particular group was very detericular group was very determined but their determination was part of an overall team effort. These qualities complemented their talent, allowing them to surpass the .500 records of the previous two years. The Lady Jays got a psychological boost when they swept Messiah early in the season, it provided them with an added dose of confidence, making their skills even sharper. Later the team pushed Trenton State to the limit. Despite this loss, the ladies were satisfied by taking the number one team in the country into extra innings. Depth was a factor in the team's success; the magnanimous accomplishments of the season were due to the ability of the group, not just one player. The winning record and championship title were prizes that made each of these ladies proud.

WEEKEND WARRIORS

Intramurals provide stu-dents the opportunity to join together and compete against fellow students at an amateur level. There is no pressure of MAC records or competing with other NCAA Division III teams, only the personnal battles between friends to be the best. Intramurals provide fun, competition, and a break from work. They allow halls, clubs, or a group of friends to ban together as a team and to have fun, regardless of wins and losses. Many different sports are involved in intramurals, at least one of which is bound to please each student.
